Conditions At Kingston Are Very Alarming-- No Definite List Of The Dead.

CERTAIN NO AMERICANS ARE DEAD

Negroes Loot The Stores And Supplies Spared By The Fire--Loss May Reach A Thousand Dead-- Many Merchants Are Killed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Jan. 17.—Definite advice as to the extent of the catastrophe at Kingston are still lacking. Conflicting reports were received that indicate the death list might be anywhere from 100 to 1000. One dispatch reported 310 bodies had already been recovered and buried. From meagre advice that have come through it is indicated there is no immediate fear of a food famine, as fruit is plentiful and other Jamaican towns can send aid. Doctors and medical supplies are, however, urgently needed.

Shores Sinking.
The shores of the harbor of Kingston are sinking and there is terror lest the city slip into the sea according to a private despatch received by a large mercantile house here today, from Port Au Prince, Hayti. The bed of the harbor is said to be sinking, the water is in many places and is now 100 feet deep. Every wharf not destroyed by fire is said to have sunk into the sea or has been rendered worthless.

Kingston Alone.
Holland Bay, Jamaica, Jan. 17.—Advice received from various parts of the island show that Kingston was the only place damaged by the earthquake. No further earthquake shocks have been felt in Jamaica.

Fire the Cause.
The reports agree that the entire business section of Kingston was completely demolished, mainly as a result of a fire. The destroyed section includes the portion of the town between East and West Sts. and from Tower street to the water front. The Myrtle Bank hotel, the favorite resort for Americans, was completely razed, the large dry goods houses of Nathan Sherlock and Company, and all other buildings in the vicinity, have been burned. The city hospital is over crowded. The steamships in the harbor are caring for many of the injured.

All Are Down.
Hardly a building was left standing in the entire city, every one not demolished, is injured and uninhabitable. It is impossible to furnish an accurate estimate of the dead, the figures vary from 400 to 1200, later notice estimate gives the injured a number of several thousand, and about ten thousand homeless. Some very prominent business men are among the dead. As far as is known no Americans were killed or injured.

Horror Grows.
London, Jan. 17.—The latest reports received here regarding the Kingston disaster all tend to confirm and even accentuate the gravity of the Jamaican calamity. Responsible sources of information concur in showing the growing proportions of the catastrophe.

Trial Of Union Officers On Charge Of Complicity In Murder Of Late Governor To Begin One Week Hence.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Caldwell, Idaho, Jan. 17.—Unless an unforeseen delay occurs, one week hence will witness the beginning of what promises to be the most noted and sensational criminal trial that has ever taken place in this part of the country. Charles H. Moyer, William D. Hayward and George A. Pettibone, all of them officials of the Western Federation of Miners, will be placed in the dock to stand trial on a charge of complicity in the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg. The trial will take place before Judge Ed. L. Bryan of the Seventh judicial district of Idaho. Judge Bryan, who is a democrat, was elected to the bench last November. Before his election Judge Bryan was attorney for Harry Orchard, also accused of complicity in the Steunenberg murder and whose confession resulted in the arrest of the other three.

The Arrest of Moyer Haywood and Pettibone was the culmination of the crimes attending the strike of the Western miners in 1905. On the evening of Dec. 30 of that year ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg was murdered. The murder was a most atrocious one. The deed was committed by means of a bomb. A string was attached to the gate at the Steunenberg home, and when the ex-Governor opened it the mine was fired, killing him instantly. The miners had but slight personal grievance against Steunenberg, and it is alleged that his murder was only one of a series of assassinations planned by the accused men in order to revive the life and influence of the miners' organization, which had Good from an Evil.

In Australia, where the rabbit is a pest, there is an annual "round-up," at which millions of the animals are slaughtered. The rabbits are utilized for their fur and meat, much of which is exported. During the year over 20,000,000 rabbits were sent to other countries frozen in the fur or in the form of canned meat.

Elephants Make Trouble.
For some reason not yet discovered, the elephants in Rhodesia have a rooted objection to the mile pegs along the railway line. They pull them out of the ground with their trunks and cause considerable annoyance and trouble.

JUDGE SALE'S DECISION IS IN FAVOR OF FOSSUM AND THE LITTLE GIRL

In the Habeas Corpus Action Brought by Oly Martin Hanson of the Town of Newark.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge J.
W. Sale rendered judgment in favor of Christian Fossom of the town of Plymouth and little Olive Osterson, his ward, in the action brought by Oly Martin Hanson to gain possession of the child. It was clearly shown that the child had been treated as one of the family at the Fossom home, and that judging from his past record the father, who had given power-of-attorney to Hanson, was not the best person in the world to be allowed to direct what should become of his daughter.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, January 17, 1867.—A Call.—We hear that Rev. C. L. Thompson of this city has received a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Cincinnati, with a salary of $3,000 and the prospect of a speedy advance. While we are glad to know that our esteemed friend has had a call to more advantageous and lucrative position, we regret that the inducement will probably deprive this city of one of its most promising and respected ministers. He holds the proposition under advisement.

E. Peckham, $39.50; total, $229.65. This money has been disbursed according to the needs of each by a committee, consisting of Mrs. S. Hutson, Mrs. Thornton and Miss H. Russell.

Mildred Holland will make her appearance on Friday, Jan. 18, at the Myers Theatre in her new emotional drama, "A Paradise of Lies," in this romantic play of Italy, Miss Holland, in the judgment of the most conservative critics ranks among the most capable and accomplished artists of her day. Possessed of wonderful personal magnetism, and thoroughly schooled in the minute details of stage craft, she has acquired a finesse which makes her performances so delightful, that she has been ranked with Regine, the wonderful French emotional actress. The Roundup By Willie West

He Pries Up the Sporting World Lid and Sees Strange Sights.

A red automobile stopped in Long Acres square, a central section in New York's Broadway. A liveried footman vaulted to the sidewalk while a valet unwrapped the furs from the foot of Norman Selby, erstwhile Kid McCoy, inventor of the corker blow and one time greatest exponent of the boxing art.

"Is it true that you are anxious to enter the ring again?" the great Selby-McCoy was asked.

"Not as long as I am riding in horseless carriages," he said smilingly in his thin voice.

"Still," he continued, "this thing of being cash boy in a few-elry store is not very strenuous."

"How about Jeffries?"

"Say, my friend," smiled McCoy, teasing his face with a hellebore ker-

"Sure—for a million."

Mr. Selby-McCoy is not squandering his wealth. They say he is married to it.

How can athletics be conducted peacefully when differences of opinion like the following example occur every day?

A leading eastern hockey official says any man who accepts money or its equivalent for playing the game is a professional.

Whereas a leading eastern "amateur" hockey player says a player who accepts money or its equivalent intentionally is a professional.

Of course we all understand what taking money, unintentionally means. It means that the coin is forced on us when we are asleep. This distinction is like that once made by the great Roman hammer thrower, J. Caesar. He never murdered any one. When he wanted to get rid of a man, he merely killed him without malice.

Matrimony makes cowards of us all.

Kid Herman is so inflated through staying eight rounds with Champion Joe Gans that he wants to jump into the slaughter pen with Battling Nelson. But it wasn't Herman who prolonged the fight eight rounds. It was the moving picture men, who wanted to get their money's worth, and Gans accommodated them. He could have tackled the Kid away any time after the second round. Perhaps Nelson would not be so considerate.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

ROOT'S DIPLOMACY

Secretary Root and wife have gone to Canada to visit Earl Grey and wife. On the face of such an announcement it would merely seem that the Roots were paying a friendly call upon the Greys. Below the surface, deep down at the roots of things, comes the fact that Secretary of State of the United States is paying a visit to Earl Grey, the Governor General of Canada. Root has thrown all the red tape of department and international etiquette to the winds and has gone to Canada. If Mr. Root was not Secretary of War and Earl Grey not Governor General of Canada, nothing would be thought of the visit, but the two men in their relative positions, can not meet informally without the entire civilized world speculating on the probable outcome. Dispatches from England say that the diplomats of King Edward's realm are rejoicing over the visit and expect that all existing disputes between the United States and Canada will soon be settled. However, this may be Secretary Root has taken the bull by the horns, thrown custom to the wind and is practicing shirt-sleeve diplomacy in the truest sense of the word.

SPOONER AND TILLMAN

Perhaps the United States Senate shows no more distinct types of statesmen than is illustrated by Senators Spooner and Tillman. They are leaders of the two parties that divide the political United States and consequently are opposed to each other on matters of national importance. Tillman is blunt, outspoken and somewhat obscene in his debates. Spooner is cool, rhetorically perfect, and speaks with a biting sarcasm that penetrates even the thick skin of the South Carolina Senator. In the speech of Senator Spooner in the Senate on Tuesday Mr. Tillman was forced to listen to truths which were hurled at him in such a convincing manner that he will find it hard to answer them. Both men are able speakers. Tillman the firebrand, while Spooner cool and collected brings results. Pit these two men against each other in debate the whole Senate listens with care and attention. Let Spooner make a sarcastic rejoinder to Tillman and the gallery smiles; in fact these two men are so bitterly opposed to each other in every particular that every encounter they have is eagerly watched for by the country at large.

SOCIALISM

Much unfavorable comment is heard relative to the socialistic doctrines which were expounded at the recent meeting of the Social Union club and the management of this organization is scored for having brought such isms into prominence by fathering the appearance of the speaker. Socialism is a disease of the brain. It appears most virulent in men of foreign extraction, men whose ancestors have been ground down for centuries or whose race qualifications have made them marked men. It is the product of the disordered minds and is but a step behind anarchy. Anarchy is the curse of Europe today and the dream of fanatics who hope by tearing down the existing conditions they may themselves be benefited. This world is full enough of isms and discord without projecting any more and Janesville would be just as well off if socialism was not given ground to gain a foothold in our midst.

A CENT AND A HALF

One of the latest phases of the railway transportation ideas comes bobbing up in the legislature in the shape of a cent and a half a mile railway fare. It is evident that legislation reducing the railway fares will be passed by the present session of the legislature, but it is to be hoped that the reform idea will not run so rampant that detrimental laws be enacted against the railroads which will cut Wisconsin off the railway maps.

A socialist member of the state legislature would reform the state laws by making it lawful to picket shops where strikes occur. He would also make it impossible to collect any damages for injury done to property through strikes. Here is the kind of doctrine to be preached. Make it lawful to destroy property and life.

Evidently the hard times in the money market are over for the conservative Bank of England has lowered its rates from six to five per cent. The Old Lady of Threadneedle Street is usually very conservative in her dealings and watches the American markets closely.

Governor Davidson evidently means to know what is going on in the legislature this winter for his office is fast becoming the headquarters of the entire republican delegation regardless of past conditions of servitude.

Roosevelt is optimistic. He sees prosperity in the distance for the United States. Why not now, Mr. President? Is not this country a pretty good place to live in just as it is?

Kingston is still suffering from the effects of the recent earthquake and fire. Acting upon the socialistic idea of dividing the wealth of the community the negro population have begun looting the ruined warehouses.

J. Pierpont Morgan is said to have retired actively from business. They said the same thing about Russell Sage, but he did not retire until he died.

So the county board does not like to be criticised. Have they grown so mighty that they are like Caesar's wife, above suspicion of wrongdoing?

President Hill says go back to the old-fashioned steamboat lines. Why not even further back and take up the ox team and the gad as a remedy for the lack of freight cars?

Results of the Jamaica quake will be reported for several days to come and then the world will settle down to another period of waiting for the next disturbance.

Mr. Aetna is again turbulent. Vesuvius also feels gay and is discharging lava, while old Mauna Loa way off in the Hawaiian Islands has several streams at work.

Millions of the world's population are ignorant of letters, yet we appear to get along just the same with the millions left that can do their reading for them.

It would not take much to develop a furor against the Japanese with California and the entire Pacific coast in arms against the so-called invasion.

San Francisco is rising from its ruins slowly. Labor difficulties are doing much to retard its growth.

Milwaukee papers have not yet closed the state crusade to make Milwaukee the town of the state.

Get-rich-quick schemes are still on the market and if you have not yet bitten there is still time.

Chicago public school question appears to be bothering the Jungle City newspapers considerably.

PRESS COMMENT.

Foglish Fellow Foraker
Chicago Tribune: Senator Foraker is playing to a gallery that dwindles at every performance.

Mrs. Palmer's Candy Pull Milwaukee Sentinel: Things indeed begin to look millennial when representatives of capital and labor meet for candy pull in Mrs. Potter Palmer's drawing room.

Gives No Such Assurances Chicago Record-Herald: E. H. Harriman denies that he owns all the railroads of the country, but he doesn't make any rash promise not to get, at his earliest convenience, the few that are left outside.

That Corey Person and Bride Chicago News: We hope that no one would take it as a personal affront if the Corey person and the Gilman girl were to live happily ever after. You know, they have got to do something to get back at the I-told-you-so gang.

Press Agent Still Busy

G. F. Grassie in Evening Wisconsin: Marked copies of the Madison Democrat containing a long article in regard to Mother Eddy and Christian Science and an answer to the recent McClure's article have been sent to all the members of the legislature. Wonder if the Christian Scientists are going to want any legislation this session.

Municipal Rinks in LaX
La Crosse Chronicle: The common council has wisely determined to provide two fine skating rinks for the use of the public and the locations selected will meet with general approval. One or the other will be accessible from all parts of the city and we predict that both will be immensely enjoyed by all classes of the population.

Socialism Voliva's "Revelation" Pond du Lac Bulletin: Overseer Voliva, the successor of John Alexander Dowie, has started out on an entirely different theory than that of his predecessor. Instead of posing as a prophet with divine revelation to communicate to the people, he takes a shorter cut and declares that the revelation is open to all. Money madness, he says, was the chief cause of Dowie's downfall after a good beginning, and his remedy for the troubles of this world is socialism. It remains to be seen whether his program will be more successful than that of his predecessor.

The Personal Tax
Milwaukee News: The ease with which the personal tax is dodged is exemplified in the tax returns of Greater New York. Andrew Carnegie has been assessed $5,000,000. John D. Rockefeller $2,500,000. The Russell Sage estate has been valued at $2,000,000. The assessments are out of proportion with the actual holdings of the taxpayers. So easily is the tax evaded that on the part of the millionaire the personal tax becomes a voluntary contribution. They are taxed what they will consent to pay. To increase it beyond that figure is to invite the loss to the state of the entire tax, as by a mere change of residence the tax may be dodged and the taxpayer make his own terms with the taxpayer.

Order Will Cause More Wrecks
La Crosse Leader-Press: The tendency both on the part of the railroads and the government is to find out the causes of wrecks and so far as possible eliminate them. But an order just issued by the Wisconsin commission will produce an opposite effect. It will have the tendency to make wrecks more numerous. The commission has ordered the railroads to report to it all cases of delayed trains and the causes thereof, the purpose of this order being, of course, to give the commission ground to punish the roads for their tardiness. If that order remains in force, it will be paid for heavily in human life. The railroads, fearing a penalty for tardiness, will bend every energy to prevent it. They, in turn, will bring pressure to bear upon the engineers. No engineer wants to be late now. He is inclined to take chances to keep his record clear, but if he is to be called severely to account every time his train falls behind time and if a few such cases will result in his retirement, as they will if the commission maintains its position, the ordinary engine driver will become absolutely reckless.

Facts from Brownsville
Chicago Record-Herald: The box full of ball cartridges and empty shells which President Roosevelt sent to the senate as mementos from Brownsville must have given many of the senators much pain as it lay upon the vice president's table. And, indeed, these senators deserved all the pain they felt. For the cartridges were mute witnesses to the fact that the senate has been wasting a lot of time and making itself ridiculous for small political purposes.

There are just three questions involved in the affair of the colored battalion. One is the constitutional question as to the President's powers as commander in chief of the army. It looks weighty, but actually it is trivial. His critics have made no case at all.

The next is as to the facts. Did colored soldiers "shoot up" the town? The proof is now overwhelming.

The third is as to the President's wisdom in the course he took in discharging the battalion without honor. That is none of the senate's business. But even here no case has been made against him. The battalion has become impossible owing to its many offenses. Its members were banded together to the last man to protect their own malefactors. There was no cure except its discharge. It couldn't be discharged with honor. It had to be discharged without honor.

The President made one mistake in barring the discharged soldiers from civil office under the government. He had no power to issue such an order, and the order in this respect was null and void from the day of its issue. He has admitted his error and withdrawn the order.

The case is closed—except for the cheap politics the kind that is making Foraker famous.

FOURTH CHAPTER OF THE CLEVER STORY

"When Wilderness Was King" Appears in Gazette's Magazine Section Saturday.

In Saturday's issue of the new magazine section appears the fourth chapter of Randall Parish's famous story, "When Wilderness Was King." The story has just begun to be interesting and if you are not a regular subscriber of the Gazette you should send your name in at once so as to fully enjoy this particular section which appears each Saturday. Robert Barr has a clever story entitled "The Mystery of Pathfinder" and Joquin Miller's tale, "A Bear on Fire," is excellent. A brief account of Voodoosm by Day Allen Willey, Edward Lowry's review of the Comic Opera Prima Donna, a story of the growth of tea in America, the strange story of Lindy Island, Estelle Bennett's "Woman Her Ways," "Young Men in Congress" and the Children's page go to make up this interesting little weekly magazine.

Possibility of the Future.

Allows Three of Four Crews to Draw Higher Night Pay.

Once more the pay of local switchmen in the employ of the Chicago and North-Western Railway company has been changed. This time the wages of three crews, consisting of six men, have been advanced by a change in the schedule. By starting the ten-hour "work days" for the two engines at 6 a. m., 1 p. m., 6 p. m., and 1 a. m., three of the night crews receive night pay. This is several cents an hour higher than the day scale and comes as a relief to the men. The change in no way affects the engineers and firemen, who receive the same wages, day or night.

SETTLEMENT OF $400 WAS MADE

IN COUNTY'S $1,366 CLAIMS AGAINST F. P. STARR.

DISPLEASED WITH REPORTS

County Board by a Vote of 27 to 11 Sat Down on School Superintendents' "Harangues."

In the course of his report, as supervisor of assessments, to the county board yesterday afternoon Frank P. Starr was called upon to answer numerous questions regarding the equalization and assessment of 1906. One of the questions related to assessment of factories on a basis of 50 per cent of true valuation while other property was placed at 80 per cent. Mr. Starr explained that it was necessary here, as elsewhere, to favor the manufacturing institutions; that the procedure could not be dispensed with here simply because it was in operation elsewhere. In certain neighboring states the power is given to remit taxes altogether and on the theory that a factory adds to the value of surrounding territory the Wisconsin authorities have found it advisable to exert every effort to keep the industries within the confines of the state and tempt new ones here. In this connection Supervisor Livemore called attention to the fact that a number of cities of Iowa had granted to remit taxes for ten years in order to induce certain Beloit factories to move there. Mr. Starr also explained that in the equalization of the county an amount equal to the estimated shortage caused by this form of paternalism was added to the total for each manufacturing district or city, and not on the county at large. The same thing could probably be done with a stock farm which was deemed to be of particular value to contiguous territory. Tobacco warehouses, the speaker said, ran somewhat higher than the factories, and the factories, themselves, were assessed at figures nearer their true valuations in Rock county than in Kenosha and some of the other neighboring localities. Mr. Starr thanked the board for its commendation of his work during the past year.

This afternoon Supervisor F. P. Livemore introduced a resolution with a preamble reciting the facts relating to the custom of the county board for many years to pay for deputy hire by the county clerk; the objection made by Supervisor J. L. Pear over a year ago that such proceedings in the case of ex-county clerk Frank P. Starr had been without legal authority; his demand that the board require the said Starr to return the money; the board's refusal to take such action; the commencement of an action against Starr in circuit court by Supervisor Bear; and concluding with Mr. Starr's offer, by reason of the uncertainty of the outcome and the expense of the litigation, to settle the claims of $1,366.40 and a basis of $400.

The resolution, itself, advocated the acceptance of the offer and upon payment of the money, the complete discharge of any other possible liability on Mr. Starr's part. The latter made a brief statement in which he said that he had reached the conclusion that it would be to the best interests of all concerned to make this compromise and urging his hearers to vote for it. The resolution carried without dissenting vote.

Supts' Reports Excluded.
Supervisor John A. Paul's resolution stipulating that all of the reports of the two county school superintendents, save the financial statements, be excluded henceforth from the published records, either in newspapers or pamphlets, provoked an acrimonious debate. Supervisor Gettle characterized the movement as part and parcel of the stingy, parsimonious carving and cutting away of anything relating to education which had characterized the board all too frequently in the past; and said that the supervisors would be ashamed of themselves when they quietly thought over their action tonight. Supervisors Skavlen, Livemore, and others made heated replies to the effect that the long harangues by the superintendents could be consumed by the people who liked them; that the board was getting weary of having impertinence and insult go in with its proceedings. The resolution carried by a vote of 27 to 11.

Various Reports Received.
Reporting for Committee No. 9, Supervisor Gettle said that the accounts of the county clerk, register of deeds, clerk of court, county treasurer, soldiers' relief and special relief commissions had been examined and found alright with one possible exception. During the two years of his term as Ex-Clerk of Court Stevens received $407 as fees for the naturalization of citizens. This he contended he had a right to retain, while the chairman of the committee—acting under the law requiring all fees to be turned over to the county—had made a demand on him for the money. This demand had been refused. Nothing further was said or done about the matter. Mr. Stevens, it is known, acted on good legal advice. Judge Grimm spoke.

DEAD STATESMAN CALLED DEFAULTER

CONGRESSMAN ADAMS HAD PIL-LAGED AN ESTATE.

USED $70,000 IN BONDS

Philadelphia Who Committed Suicide
Last Year Had Appropriated Trust Funds to His Own Use.

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The late Congressman Robert Adams, Jr., of this city, who committed suicide in his apartment in Washington last year by shooting, was declared in the orphan's court Wednesday to have been a defaulter to the amount of $70,000.

The startling assertion was made during an argument in surcharge proceedings brought against H. Carlton Adams, surviving executor and trustee of the estate of his father, Robert Adams, Sr., by his stepmother, Mrs.
Robert Adams, Sr., and his stepfather, Mrs. Charles Moran of New York.

Canal Bonds Were Taken.
Counsel for H. Carlton Adams told the court he would show that Congressman Adams had appropriated to his own use $70,000 worth of bonds belonging to the estate of Robert Adams, Sr., and to H. Carlton Adams.
It was stated the congressman and H.
Carlton Adams had keys to a safe deposit box in which the alleged missing bonds had been kept and that as far back as five years ago H. Carlton Adams had discovered that Pennsylvania canal bonds were missing.
He notified his brother, Robert, and the matter was fixed up. Subsequently H. Carlton Adams' condition became such that he could not attend to business and matters were left in the hands of the congressman.

A broker testified that Congressman Adams had pledged Pennsylvania canal company bonds valued at $10, 000 for a loan of $2,900. Of the remaining bonds, valued at about $60, 000, no trace has been found.

Income From Estate Missing.
It was also claimed that a part of the accumulated income of his father's estate, of which Congressman Adams had charge, was unaccounted for.

In proof of his assertion the attorney for H. Carlton Adams produced in court a letter from the suicide congressman, written in Washington the day he ended his life, in which he said he was sorry he had caused a "mess" and urged that H. Carlton Adams be not held responsible for any securities that might be missed.
It is thought that counsel, upon instructions of the court, will be able to come to a satisfactory agreement without further airing the affairs of the dead statesman in court.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Janesville People Learn the Importance of It?
Backache is only a simple thing at first.

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys.
That serious kidney troubles follow;
That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

This the statement of a Janesville citizen.
Mrs. W. Johnson of 127 Pearl St., Janesville, Wis., says:
"For a long time I had severe pains in my back that must have been due to some disorder of the kidneys. It was almost constant, aching and misery in the small of my back and became so severe at times that I was almost prostrated. Numerous remedies that I tried failed to help me and finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills which I had seen highly recommended by local people, procured at the People's Drug company. After using this remedy for a short time I found a complete cure, and the trouble has not returned." Price 50

OHIO FLOOD GETS WORSE

FURTHER WARNING ISSUED BY THE WEATHER BUREAU.

Serious Condition to Be Expected Below Mouth of Little Kanawha—Rains Will Continue.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The weather bureau Wednesday night issued the following flood warning announcing the steady rise of the Ohio river and more serious flood conditions below the mouth of the Little Kanawha river and the lower Mississippi river:
"The Ohio river at Cincinnati Wednesday night had reached a stage of 53.5 feet, 3.5 feet above the flood stage, and still rising steadily. Additional warnings were issued Wednesday morning to prepare for still higher stages and further warnings for above flood stages Thursday below Cincinnati. It is still raining in the Ohio valley and more rain is indicated for Thursday. These will render the situation still more serious below the mouth of the Little Kanawha and preparations should be made for severe floods."

"The Mississippi below Cairo is above flood stages over practically its entire length, and the additional rise now coming down the Ohio will prolong and accentuate the lower Mississippi flood conditions. Warnings to prepare for these flood stages were issued about one week ago and additional warnings, giving specific information as to stages expected will be issued in ample time."

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—At eight o'clock Wednesday night the river registered 54 feet and was rising at the rate of two inches per hour. The water reached the Grand Central depot, and all trains are now leaving from the Eighth street depot.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—Telegraphic communication has been seriously interfered with in Indiana and southern Illinois, on account of a heavy sleet storm. Wires burdened with snow and ice went to the ground, shutting off communication for both telegraph and telephone companies. Forces of men have been at work all day repelling the breaks.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Nine houses have been destroyed by the flood, at an estimated loss of $10,000. The water is rushing out over the land on the Springdale side of the river with great force. The large mirror works of Hickenkamps, valued at $300,000 are being undermined and fears are entertained that the works will be completely destroyed.

Wednesday night Maj. Silbert, in charge of the government work in this district, assisted by a large force of men, attempted to blow up the Springdale dam. A skiff containing 100 pounds of dynamite was sunk. Electric wires were attached to the explosive and the current turned on when the skiff reached the river bed.
A terrific explosion followed, but the blast was unsuccessful.

The resolution was adopted by the

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a cure way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases, whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, the bronchi, the stomach (as catarrh of dyspepsia), the bowels (as mucous colitis, bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections it is often successful in affecting a cure.

"The Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of all cases of diseases—those peculiar to women, and those of men.
It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak worn-out, over-worked women, no matter what has caused the breakdown, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up a new strength, restoring the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formula of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.
The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, vegetable medicinal plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.
Dr. Pierce's Pills, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorates stomach, liver and bowels.

AT MONT ST. MICHEL

OLD MONASTERY AND CHURCH—ON BRETON COAST.

Though Injured by the Ravages of Time, Enough Remains to Show the Marvelous Skill and Patience of the Monks Who Built the Structures.

(Special Correspondence.)

We were tired of the bustle and heat of the French capital and planned to rest on the coast of Brittany, in the little town of Dinard. Dinard is a favorite resort of English people, and the town is full of English men and women, gayly chatting in the pretty little tearooms—for wherever the English are, there the tearoom springs up as if by magic—or walking in bright afternoon costume on the plaza past the Casino, where the mystic plays and the young people gather.

After our experience with a busiling, crowded, noisy hotel on the main street, we found the quiet and rest we sought in the Régina, where the very French little hostess, courteous, kind, capable, extended to us her perfect hospitality.

It was a beautiful Sunday in early fall when our hostess arranged for our automobile trip to Mont St. Michel, the point of great interest, if not of greatest interest, in that part of Britany. Following the coast line we fairly swallowed up mile after mile of the white road, while the windmills flapped their wings, at us, and the village dogs barked furiously, and the little donkeys looked askance at the flying terror. And as we passed through village after village, the peasants shook their fists or scowled unpleasantly, for the Breton peasant has no love for the "whirlwind," which crushes his chickens and frightens his animals and disturbs his quiet and passes on uncaring.

Breton Fete Day.

As we approach one village, we urge the chauffeur to go more slowly, for it is a fete day and we are anxious to get a glimpse of the Breton peasant celebrating. The road is alive with men, women and children in their gayest attire. The women wear their white linen caps with long streamers, all newly washed and starched for the day. The short, bright-colored skirt and close-fitting bodice make a picturesque scene in the country road.
From miles around, the people had gathered to enjoy their fete day together. Here is a Punch and Judy show; there a vender of sweetsmeats and cooling drinks; beyond, a booth where ribbons and laces may be had to set off the faces of pretty young sweethearts and wives. And overlooking the bright scene is the image of the Virgin at the crossroads, smiling down on the innocent pleasures of these childlike people.

But the automobile fiasco, and at noon we have reached our objective point—Mont St. Michel. Mont St.
Michel is, or was, an island, thrown up apparently by some volcanic eruption just off the Breton coast. It towers up like a volcano itself, to a sharp point many hundreds of feet above the sea level. Until within the last five years the island was connected with the mainland only at low tide by a long stretch of sandy shore. At high tide it was entirely cut off from communication with the mainland by the ocean, which at this place rushes in twice daily—at high tide—with a swif-tness that excels that of the fastest horse. Indeed, men have been known to lose their lives in the surf, through ignorance of both the times of the tides and of the rush with which the water rises. Within the last few years, however, a bridge has been constructed, which connects the island with the mainland and over which vehicles may pass at any time of day.

The rush of modern travel is responsible for this "bridge," which more or less seems to desecrate the place by intruding modernity into a thing so essentially of the past.

Built by Divine Command.

It was in the twelfth century that a monk of holy life sat meditating on holy things, when a vision appeared Modern Approach to Mount. to him and St. Michael commanded him, in the vision, to build a monastery and a church to the glory of God on the top of Mont St. Michel—so named from the saint of the vision.

Immediately, in response to the command, the monastery and church began to rise, and in course of time were finished, and devoted to the service of God. For centuries the chant of praise or prayer of repentance ascended from this isolated peak. It seemed as if this might be a place truly hallowed by the presence of God, and the monks who lived there were true to their vow of poverty and simplicity. They lived in a state of perfect peace and quietude, and their lives were a model of holiness and piety.

the State used it as a political prison.
Such a use seemed a desecration, yet when we were shown the dark dungeons beneath the monastery, where recalcitrant monks had been thrown to work out their repentance in darkness and solitude, on bread and water, we could not help but wonder whether the later or the earlier use of these underground ways was the greater desecration.

Within the last few years the French government has undertaken to restore

Village Street.
(Mont St. Michel in Distance.) both monastery and church to their former beauty. Both are now in a degree of ruin, yet enough remains to show the marvelous skill with which those early monks, in their fervor of religious zeal, wrought forms of beauty and wrought them in spite of difficulties which might appall even this twentieth century.

Rooms of Rare Beauty.

We mount 600 steps before we reach the topmost level, and each flight of fifty or sixty steps brings us to a council chamber with roof of delicate beauty; or to an audience room of noble dimensions; or to cloisters with columns of slender, exquisite workmanship.

The base of Mont St. Michel is surrounded by a heavy stone wall, which has served to keep out the sea, and which made for the monks a stricter seclusion, and for the government a stronger fortress.

Just within this wall, climbing some distance up the mountain, is a street which constitutes the village of Mont St. Michel. Here, bending toward each other as if their roofs would touch across the narrow street, are houses, centuries old. Here, too, is the inevitable curio store which marks the invasion of the tourist. And here, too, on this beautiful fall Sunday, was the fete celebrated. The little village church, with its waxen images gaily decked with flowers and ribbons, had been full of worshipping peasants in the early morning, but now the day was theirs, and the street was alive with the chattering, laughing crowd, fostling each other merrily on the narrow walk; drinking at the little tables which pushed themselves out into the sunshine of the street, or eating of the world-famous omelet of Mme. Po-lard, the mother of the village. The scene was purely a foreign one, and one could almost imagine himself a citizen of a past century—except for the curio store.

The Woman That Rules.

It is not the merely cold or the merely emotional woman who can influence a man's life, but the woman with self-control; which, in its highest form, is self-abnegation.—John Oliver Hobbes (Pearl Mary Craigie).

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure.

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass; however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous.
The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
